HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
Hoofland's German Tonic.
The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts,) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.
Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.
Those who have no objection to the combination of the bitters, as stated, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.
The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the stomach, often becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:
Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fulness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.
The sufferer from those diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigation and inquiries possesses active merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well known remedies—
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Prepared by DR. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into the country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.
These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Diseases of the kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.
DEBILITY,
Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, &c.
There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge in the white of the eyes, a indication of a diseased liver, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.
PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,
And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendants infirmities, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.
NOTICE.
It is a well established fact that fully one half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, never feel well; they are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.
To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.
WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN,
Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.
Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.
TESTIMONIALS.
HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:
Philadelphia, March 18, 1767.
"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system.
Yours, truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD."
HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.
"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON."
FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances and particularly in my own family, of the excellence of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.
FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL.
Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.
I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver.
Yours truly, E. D. FENDALL.
CAUTION.
Hoofland's German Remedies are counterfeited. See that the signature of C. M. JACKSON is on the wrapper of each bottle. All others are counterfeit.

And prize for its surpassing worth,
Is always rarest.

Iron is heaped in mountain piles,
And gluts the laggard forges;
But gold flakes gleam in dim defiles
And lonely gorges.

The snowy marble flecks the land
With heaped and rounded ledges,
But diamonds hide beneath the sand
Their starry edges.

God gives no value unto men
Unmatched by need of labor;
And Cost of Worth has ever been
The closest neighbor.

Were every hill a precious mine,
And golden all the mountains;
Were all the rivers fed with wine
By tireless fountains,

Life would be ravished of its zest,
And shorn of its ambition,
And sink into the dreamless rest
Of inanition. —J. G. HOLLAND.

Mira, the "Marble-Hearted."

"Who is that beautiful girl, yonder—the one dancing with Leslie? Do you know her, Paul?"

The young man addressed as Paul raised his eye glass and looked long and steadily at the young girl and replied: "That is Mira Swan, the Marble-hearted."

"Why do you call her the 'marble-hearted?" It seems a strange name to bestow upon a beautiful woman."

"Yes, it is a strange name, but very appropriate for yonder lady, who, as the story goes, is like the icebergs of the Polar Sea."

"I do not question the fitness of the name; I only ask why it was given her. She is by far the most beautiful girl in the room."

"Yes, she is beautiful," replied Paul, "but as heartless as she is pretty. She has had half the gentlemen in the room at her feet, but treats them all alike," said Paul bitterly. He had been among the rejected. "She is heartless, and it is a great mystery to to us all."

Warren Dagon smiled and said: "Please introduce me, Paul. I like her appearance but I am a stranger to all present. Ten years in foreign lands renders one a stranger to his own family; any way I am a stranger here."

"I will introduce you with pleasure—but I caution you, and kindly admonish you against loving her; for remember, she is marble, and your heart will have to pay for it if you do."

"Lead on, Paul; you have cautioned me of my danger, and I still remember the old adage, 'forewarned is forearmed.' I am not a boy, Paul, to break my heart for a woman."

"'Boys' hearts often bend where men's break," said Paul.

Mira Swan was pretty, and an only daughter. Her slight rounded form was perfect in its symmetry. Her small mouth, with even white teeth, half seen when her rosy lips dimpled into smiles; her rich black hair rippled over a broad white brow, was looped up from her face, and fastened at the back in a mass of shining curls, and gave a very beautiful effect to her appearance. She was also very prettily dressed, being attired in crimson silk with an overdress of rich black lace fastened at the neck with scarlet geranium blossoms—a cluster of the same gleaming in her hair. Mira cared more for buds and blossoms than for pearls and diamonds. She was gay and brilliant, yet when any of her lovers whispered of the "grand passion," she would be a very queen in her haughty self possession.

Warren Dagon was introduced, and was soon floating with her through the intricate mazes of the dance. He paid her the most assiduous attention throughout the evening. Mira knew him by report to be a gentleman of unbounded wealth and extensive travel. In his company, as the hours swept swiftly by, her interest deepened all the while in her noble admirer. Her young heart beat as it had never done before.

Warren Dagon was a brilliant conversationist, and few men could be more fascinating than he, for he had traveled extensively in his own and foreign lands, and when he chose to exert himself to please, his dark, eloquent eyes, pure classic language and high-bred elegance of manners were irresistibly charming. He evidently desired to please Mira, and his manner towards her implied as much.

Mira listened spell bound to his beautiful conversation, thereby awaking the jealous indignation of a dozen other less fortunate admirers. They felt themselves aggrieved, for she always treated them with such cool indifference. One lady, resplendent in brocade and diamonds, muttered through her teeth, "The marble hearted is warming at last."

Mira cared little for admiration and less for the opinion of her fashionable friends so freely expressed. She was walking in the cool piazza in the moonlight with young Dagon, listening to his musical voice, whose low, sweet tones were stirring a strange, wild melody in a heart that never before vibrated with love. She was listening to the thrilling description of Rome, the Eternal City, enshrined on her seven hills. He delineated with an artist's enthusiasm her grand old marbles and inspired paintings, over which the dust and decay of ages rest like the gray shroud on the bosom of the dead. In elegant language he described the wonders of disentombed Pompeii. He pictured the temples, theatres and dwellings where lived and loved the people of two thousand years ago. He told her, in glowing language, of the graceful minarets, feathery palms and grand and solemn pyramids, and while listening she seemed to scale with him the dangerous passes of the Alps, and stood in breathless awe looking up the dizzy heights crowned with ice and snow. And in imagination she wandered down the golden Nile and admired the rich beauty of its fertile valleys, rendered gloriously beautiful by its frequent inundations. His voice took a deeper and sweeter tone when he described the ruined cities of the far east, the fretted arches and vast cathedral aisles of the Old World made grand by the work of art, and rainbow painted windows, whose artists dying left immortal names behind them, way marks for other gifted spirits, who are destined to follow them down the broad aisle of coming ages.

She drank in the tones of his softly modulated voice, taking no note of time. When supper was announced he led her to the table. During the repast she watched him narrowly, and when wine was served her face became pale with excitement. She offered him a glass with a smile, he gave her a searching look and refused it, calling for water in its stead. Turning to her he said:

"I cannot pledge you in wine, for I do not drink it; but with this glass of water, nature's purest beverage, I drink to you. May love and happiness be your portion in life."

"Thank you." It was all she said, but a bright smile rewarded him better than words. Mira had indeed met her affinity. Love budded in their hearts that night, and ere the year had passed it blossomed into a hymenial wreath.

It was moonlight upon the Hudson. The home to which Warren Dagon took his young bride was beautiful with vines and summer blossoms. He and Mira were walking arm in arm on the cool piazza, conversing of the past and dreaming bright dreams of the future—long years to come, crowned with earthly happiness.

"I never could comprehend the reason that your friends called you marble-hearted. You were never cold to me, darling," said he, drawing her down to a seat by his side

"It is a sad story, dear husband. Let us sit here in the moonlight, and I will tell you of my fair young sister who died three years ago. I shall never again meet a spirit like her's, so proud, so pure and free. Elsie was but seventeen when she gave her heart to Atwell Chandler. He loved the wine cup better. He was no ordinary man; many and rich were the gifts bestowed upon him by nature. He was very handsome; in manner he was gentlemanly and pleasing. We all loved him; father loved him like a son, and gave him Elsie. They were married, and went to dwell in his beautiful home in the South, and for a few years they were happy.

"Then Atwell began to neglect his business, for a downward path which ended in a drunkard's grave. Five years from her bridal day, Elsie came home a heart broken widow; still young, but broken-hearted. Atwell died by his own hand, for they found him in the summer house with his brains blown out by a pistol shot; and my dear beautiful sister came to her girlhood's home broken-hearted—came home to die. It was just such a night like this, a beautiful night in midsummer, when Elsie died. She lay upon her pillow, looking so white and fair. She was so perfectly calm; no fear of death thrilled her pure spirit; her face would have charmed a Raphael, it was so spiritual in its childlike beauty. If the angels on the other shore are fairer than was Elsie in her dying hour, then indeed will heaven be glorious in its brightness.

"I knew that she was dying, for I saw the hue of death steal over the features. Her bright eyes were growing dim to earthly sight, yet they had a strange inward light, as though her spirit had penetrated the gloom of the immortal day which shines with eternal summers in the city of God. As I stood by her bedside, moistening her lips with water, and wiping the cold dew of death from her forehead, her long silken eye-lashes were lifted for a moment, and fixing her eyes upon me with an expression of earnestness and tenderness, she said:

"Mira, sister, this is death. My weary feet are even now treading the brink of the river that rolls between the other world and this. I do not fear to die; 'tis joy unutterable to know that I am almost home. Poor Atwell! I shall soon meet him again. The morning of his life was very fair, giving promise of a long and useful day; but his sun went down in darkness before it had reached the meridian, and his own hand hastened its untimely setting. I trust I may find him in the land to which I am going. Mira, promise me that you will never marry a man who is not strictly temperate, for intemperance is the foundation of misery. Think how many bright homes are made desolate by it. Fathers and mothers go down in sorrow to the grave, and wives and little children are made to suffer more than death by intemperance. O, Mira, I would far rather have you die now, while your heart is pure and free from sorrow, than have you live, and in the long years to come find misery and woe in a drunkard's home. Remember poor Atwell, and promise what I wish."

"I promise, and may Heaven help me to keep my secret," I replied.—She smiled and whispered. "I am going to sleep; good night, dear sister." It was a very long good-night to me, for ere the rising of the morning star, Elsie, my beautiful sister, had gone to meet her God."

"There was not one in all my circle of friends and acquaintances who refused wine in the festive halls, and many of them imbibed freely of stronger stimulants. There was nothing to attract my love, and I could not marry any one of them and keep my promise to Elsie. I kept my promise sacredly unbroken, and my coldness to all who whispered of love, won for me the name of 'marble hearted.'"

"Till I came, darling," he said, drawing her nearer to his bosom.

The Globe.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

Wednesday morning, Feb. 3, 1869.

WM. LEWIS, HUGH LINDSAY, } EDITORS.

The "Globe" has the largest number of readers of any other paper published in the county. Advertisers should remember this.

☞The Republican members of the U. S. Senate have decided not to confirm any more of President Johnson's nominations, except such as are actually necessary for the public service.

THE COUNTY STATEMENT.—We invite attention to statements of County Commissioners and Directors of the Poor. They are of interest to the taxpayers of the county.

IMPORTANT TO MILITARY OFFICERS.—We call attention of officers of companies and regiments during the late war, from this county, to "Important" advertisement in another column.

☞It seems to be conceded, owing to the great diversity of opinion, that there will be nothing done at this session of Congress on the subject of Finance and the Tariff. The policy of the new administration will have a controlling influence on these questions.

☞The Union Republican State Central Committee will meet at Harrisburg, on Thursday, the fourth day of February next, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of fixing the time and place for holding the next State Convention, and for the transaction of any other appropriate business.

POST MASTER.—We have been informed by several friends that we have been named as an applicant for the Post Office at this place. We wish it to be distinctly understood that we are not, have not and will not be an applicant for the Post Office, and would not take it if it should be offered to us ☞Several Quaker gentlemen had an interview with Gen. Grant a few days ago, at which they presented their well known views of the Indian question. The general told them that every day's experience confirmed him in the opinion, that we shall have no peace on the plains and frontiers till the Indian Bureau is put into the War Department.

☞The Maryland delegation in Congress, (all Democrats,) visited the President in a body last Monday, to intercede for the pardon of Dr. Mudd, and the other conspirators in the assassination of President Lincoln, now confined at the Dry Tortugas. Johnson gave them encouragement to hope that they would all be pardoned before the 4th of March.

☞A State Temperance Convention for consultation and harmony of action in the effort to lessen the evils resulting from the use of and traffic in, intoxicating liquors in Pennsylvania, will be held in the Court House in Harrisburg, on Tuesday the 23d day of February, 1869. All interested in the cause are earnestly invited to attend.

☞The Judges of the Supreme Court were in consultation a few days ago on the Legal Tender case. The discussion of the Judges has developed the fact that there will be two opinions prepared—but the impression is that the act will be sustained by a majority of the court. The decision may be expected at an early day.

☞Just now there is talk at Harrisburg about the extravagance of office holders. That the expenses of Legislation are heavy and extravagant no one will dispute. A little honest investigation by honest members may find out where the big leaks are. There is an extravagance in the printing—an extravagance in the number of subordinates, an extravagance in the postage paid for extra and useless printing, an extravagance in everything the members do not pay for out of their own pockets.

DEBTS OF THE STATES.—The debts of States in 1868 have been published, and are as follows: Maine, $5,053,500; New Hampshire, $3,487,412; Vermont, $1,168,000, Massachusetts, $13,868,672; Rhode Island, $3,140,000; Connecticut, $8,135,500; New York, $44,968,786; New Jersey, $2,219,697; Pennsylvania, $32,799,786; Delaware, $605,800; Ohio, $10,529,675; Indiana, $3,101,587; Michigan, $3,651,078; Illinois, $5,988,453; Wisconsin, $2,252,000; Minnesota, $300,000; Missouri, $20,557,000; Kentucky, $3,619,000; Kansas, about $1,000,000; California, $4,695,500; Iowa and Nebraska are out of debt.

☞An important resolution, looking to reform, was introduced into the State Senate last Wednesday by Senator White. It instructs the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform to examine into the manner of conducting the business of the several departments of the State government, with a view to ascertain if the cost of the administration of the same cannot be reduced. This is an important and timely movement, and opens the way for such reforms as will secure for the Republican party the approval of the people. We trust the Committee will do their work thoroughly, and well.

SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT.—The House on Saturday last passed the following joint resolution introduced by Mr. Boutwell:

Be it enacted, &c., two-thirds of both Houses concurring, that the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be held as part of the said Constitution, namely:

ARTICLE ——, Section 1.—The right of any citizen of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or any State, by reason of race or color or previous condition of slavery of any citizen or class of citizens of the United States.

Section 2.—The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this Article.

The resolution was passed by the necessary two thirds—yeas 150, nays 42.

The resolution goes to the Senate.—If passed, its submission to the Legislatures will follow. Of these, the approval of but twenty-four can be counted on by the most sanguine friends of the proposition, while the assent of twenty-seven would be requisite to give to it Constitutional validity. The question remaining open, would be made an issue in the State elections, especially in Connecticut, which chooses a State and Congressional ticket on the 5th of April. Her electoral vote was given to Grant, but her people have never been partial to Impartial Suffrage. Their decision upon this issue will therefore be awaited with interest, as significant of results elsewhere, especially in New York, Ohio, Oregon, California and Georgia, where the Legislatures are now Democratic.

THE WEIGHT OF GREAT MEN.—On the recent visit of Gen. Grant and Admiral Farragut to Baltimore, both were weighed at a celebrated snuff manufactory. Gen. Grant drew 151 pounds, and Admiral Farragut 155. After the weight of the distinguished gentlemen had been ascertained, Admiral Farragut remarked that he was glad to know that the navy beat the army four pounds. For all that, it will be conceded that the army is ahead as far as heard from.

The Pasting and Folding Business.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29th, 1869.

DEAR GLOBE.—I see by your last issue, you are slightly "curflumexed," to use your own expression, in regard to the conflicting statements about the expenses of the subordinate officers of the House. I have no desire to explain away my own course, for a representative always is, and should be, judged by his votes and speeches. Perhaps however I can help you out of the muddle on this subject which is not understood as it should be.

As regards the offer to take the pasting and folding by contract, I was in favor of it myself, but it was rejected in caucus for several reasons. One reason was that the law of 1868 required this work to be done by officers to be elected by the house after its organization. Another reason was that the contract system had always worked badly, the contractor being in a measure beyond the control of the Legislature, and invariably coming in for an extra allowance on the ground that he has lost money on the contract. The law of 1868 provides for twelve pasters and folders at salaries amounting in the aggregate to $7,600. This is only $2600 more than the bid by contract, and it was not considered either practicable or expedient to give out the work by contract. If there was error committed it was in adopting a resolution authorizing the clerk and speaker to appoint as many additional officers not exceeding 27 as might be necessary to do the work required. The necessity for this measure was advocated by several of the old members who are held in the highest respect, and for this reason it was supported by most of the new members who are not familiar with the petty details of this business. When it is remembered that even if the whole 27 should be appointed the number is still far below that of the past two or three years, and that their salaries have been reduced at least one third, I do not think the expense of these subordinates can exceed one-half what it was either last year or the year before. It ought to be remembered too, that this pasting, folding, addressing, and sending out documents, is to accommodate constituents and costs members a great deal of labor. I know some members who devote almost their whole time to it. Some of our western members are feeling very sore about the strictures of their papers. I must say the papers in my district have acted very genteelly on this subject. If we commit no greater blunders during the session we will be unusually fortunate. The business of the session has commenced in earnest. I have heard of some proposed measures far more potent for evil than the abuses among the paste slingers, and will endeavor to hit them as they deserve. B.

River Disaster.

LOUISVILLE, January 24.—About 11 o'clock last night the stern wheel steamer La Claire No. 2, Capt. Milt Aiken, hence for the Tennessee river, in attempting to pass over the Falls struck one of the abutments of the bridge and sunk. She had on board some fifty or sixty passengers, about fifty mules and horses and a very good freight. The boat sunk in about seven feet of water and consequently the principal part of her freight is a total loss. The live stock were cut loose and the majority swam ashore. The passengers had nearly all retired and when the announcement of the sinking was made the greatest consternation prevailed. Fortunately the steamer Tarascon came down and rounding took of all the passengers and carried them to Portland. What portion of the cargo was lost is fully insured in local offices. The boat was valued at fifteen thousand dollars, and is insured in local offices. She lies perfectly straight near the Indiana shore and can be easily raised.

National and State Legislatures.

CONGRESS.

Monday.—In the Senate the credentials of Mr. Ramsey, Senator elect from Minnesota, were presented. The Judiciary Committee presented the credentials of Mr. Hill, Senator elect from Georgia, with a resolution that he is not entitled to his seat. A minority report was also presented. A bill relating to the Central Branch of the Union Pacific Railroad was considered but not disposed of. Adjourned.

In the House, under the call for bills and resolutions, the following were introduced and referred: One providing for funding and payment of national debt, &c.; one appointing a select committee to investigate irregularities in the recent election in South Carolina; one directing the Postmaster General to open negotiations with European governments for further reduction in the rate of international postage; one to make provision for the two-fifths of persons heretofore held in slavery; one for payment of Arkansas members for full term of the Fortieth Congress. Mr. Boutwell's suffrage bill went over until next Monday. Consideration was then resumed on the bill granting land or right of way to Denver Pacific Railroad and Telegraph Company; it was finally referred to the Committee on Public Lands. Adjourned.

Tuesday.—In the Senate the credentials of Hon. Charles Sumner were presented and referred. A petition in favor of allowing pensions to survivors of the War of 1812 was referred to Committee on Pensions. A resolution was adopted in reference to the reorganization of the Treasury Department. Bill relating to Central Branch of Union Pacific Railroad was discussed, but not disposed of. Adjourned.

In the House the petition of Mrs. Lincoln was referred to the Pension Committee Speeches were made on a bill for the gradual resumption of specie payments. Adjourned.

Wednesday.—In the Senate among the bills referred was one enabling Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians to become citizens; one designating a place of confinement for persons convicted of offences against the laws of the United States. Senator Sherman's public debt and currency bill was considered. The bill relating to the Central Branch of the Union Pacific Railroad was defeated. Adjourned.

In the House substitutes were offered for Mr. Boutwell's suffrage bill. The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the legislative appropriation bill. At 10 P. M. the House adjourned.

Thursday.—In the Senate a communication was presented from the Secretary of the Interior recommending Congress to make immediate appropriation for the relief of starving Indians. The credentials of Hon. John Scott, Senator elect from Pennsylvania, were read. The proposed constitutional amendment was then taken up and considered at length. Adjourned.

LEGISLATURE.

Monday.—There was no quorum in the Senate.

Tuesday.—In the Senate, Mr. Robinson read a petition to alter the law authorizing the making of the Morris on Cove Railroad. Among the bills read was one empowering Judges of the Supreme Court to appoint five additional commissioners; one to prevent the publication of obscene advertisements and the sale of noxious medicines.—Adjourned.

In the House a number of private bills were read and passed finally.

Wednesday.—In the Senate a number of bills were read and passed. A resolution was adopted instructing the committee on retrenchment and reform to inquire into the manner of conducting the business of the several departments with a view of reduction of expenses.

In the House the committee on the contested election case of William M. Bunn vs. Daniel Witham, sitting member from the Eleventh Representative district of Philadelphia, reported in favor of Bunn, and he was duly qualified. A number of bills were acted upon.

Thursday—In the Senate a joint resolution in relation to the civil code commission was passed. A bill was read calling a convention with power to submit amendments to a vote of the people. Referred to Committee on Judiciary General. A joint resolution relative to paying the State printers for publishing Bates' military history was referred; another instructing Congressmen to vote against all proposed negro suffrage amendments. A resolution was passed in relation to securing the attendance of Senators when there is no quorum.

In the House a number of bills were returned from the Senate for concurrence. A number of bills were reported from Committees. Adjourned.

Friday.—In the Senate a resolution in regard to Bate's history was postponed. Adjourned till Monday.

The House deliberated on the abuses of the franking privilege and referred the matter to a select committee of investigation. Adjourned till Monday.

The Indian War.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The following has been received at the War Department:

HEADQUARTERS IN THE FIELD,
FORT COBB, I. T., Dec. 31, 1868.

Brevet Major General W. A. Nichols, Assistant Adjutant General, Saint Louis, Missouri.

GENERAL: I have the honor to report, for the information of the Lieutenant General, the operations of the column from Fort Bascom, under command of Brevet Colonel A. W. Evans, of the Third cavalry. It left Fort Bascom November 17th, establishing its depot on the main Canadian, at the mouth of Monument creek, east from Fort Bascom, one hundred and eighty-five miles from this depot.

On the 7th of December, Brevet Lieut. Col. A. W. Evans, marched, with detachments of companies A, C, D, F, and I, Third Cavalry, and company I, Thirty-seventh Infantry, traveling in the direction of the Antelope Hills. On reaching a point near Kiowa Creek, 41 miles east of the depot, a trail of about fifty lodges of Cheyenne Indians was struck, which was followed over to the north fork of the Red River, and thence down that stream, the trail constantly increasing, until it became very large. The trail was hotly pursued, the Indians abandoning their surplus property, until it led into a canon, near the junction of the Elm creek and the Salt Fork of the Red River, when Col. Evans made a detour to pass around the canon into which the trail led, and which brought him, at noon, on Christmas Day, into a large village of Camanches of sixty lodges, just south of the junction of the Salt Fork with Elm Creek, which was totally burned.

The Indians attacked his advance, but were driven from their village with loss of everything it contained, the women and children escaping by being hastily put on the horses of the warriors, in some cases as many as four on a horse. The village was very rich, containing over five tons of dried buffalo meat, one hundred bushels of corn, also flour, meal, coffee, sugar, soap, cooking utensils, mats, bear flesh, robes, &c., and all the paraphernalia of a rich Indian town. The Indians kept up the fighting during the day and the next morning, but there was not much fight in them. Three enlisted men were wounded, one mortally. The number of Indians killed is unknown.

Colonel Evans took the mail train again on the 26th, which led west, but being out of provisions, except beef, had to give it up.

The greatest praise is due to Col. Evans and his command. It marched twenty four days in snow, rain and intensely cold weather without tents of any kind, and finally struck this effective and heavy blow. I had known, through General Hazen and the Indians, of this marauding village.

It was composed mostly of individuals from the tribe of Comanches located here, who had reported them to me after my arrival, fearing they might be implicated in their murdering and thieving expeditions on the frontier settlements of Texas.

I can assure the General that he need not expect a continuance of the murders and robberies from Indians in my department hereafter, if one can judge from' the demoralization which this winter's campaign has produced among them.

The weather has been very bad, snow, rain and intense cold.

P. H. SHERIDAN, Maj. U. S. A.

Gen. Sherman also forwards a letter from Gen. Hazen, who says:—"I notice the papers are stating that Black Kettle's camp, destroyed by Custer, were peaceable Indians, on their way to their reservation. In his talk with me, some five or six days before he was killed, Black Kettle stated that many of his men were then on the war path, and that their people did not want peace with the people above the Arkansas His people were then engaged in the trouble on the Solomon, and their reservation was not in this section of the country at all."

A man named Dr. Bodge was found horribly mangled on the track a short distance above Perrysville, last week. He had been under the influence of liquor.

The Lewistown Gazette tells us that a woman in that town gave birth to five perfectly formed though small children, and one imperfect one, all however dead.

Mr. James Loomis, of Mt. Union, an employee of the Penna. Railroad Co., fell down a bank about thirty feet and fractured several bones.

It is said that those who engaged in the dunning business last month received more curses than blessings, and less money than promises.

We have heard of gold, silver and tin weddings, but some geniuses have started the idea of catnip and shingle weddings, which are destined to throw all others in the shade.

Wanted—a committee of inspection to see what country newspaper office in this neck of timber—say between Harrisburg and Pittsburg—is "unsurpassed." As nearly all claim that title we would just like to know.

The Altoona Tribune couldn't see it to publish a communication of nine foolscap pages, advocating the claim of a certain candidate for office, without paying the advertising rates. Who could?

A son of Reuben and Louisa Myers, of Mt Union, was bitten by a cat about eight weeks ago, from the effects of which it died. The cat was rabid, and after it had bitten the child it jumped at its uncle, who killed it with a blow from a stick.

A married man in Springfield township, this county, and the father of seven children, eloped recently with a buxom widow of the same township. The happy couple got as far as Mapleton, when they were arrested in their giddy flight.

A sportsman while out hunting in the woods near Kylertown, Centre county, was attacked by a panther which he had shot at and missed, and was literally torn to pieces. His body was found two or three days after in a terribly mutilated condition, his legs being actually torn from his body.

What People will Do.

We have some peculiar people in this place, but still, we think, not more so than in any other. As an instance of their peculiarity, as we might term it, on Saturday evening last the Peak Family of Bell Ringers were to perform in the National Hall, situated on the suburbs of the town. Many of our citizens had a desire to hear them, and hear them they would. The night was dark, and the road to the hall was devoid of lamp-lights. The people left their homes and ventured out, but before they reached the hall, a mass of mud, stretching from house to house with no pavements, and the length of two squares, spread before them They walked on thinking it would be better walking but it grew worse. They were into it—with clothes muddy, boots muddy—and if they thought of turning back the idea of the bell ringers performance urged them on, and on they went, still deeper sinking into the mire. We lost our overshoe we were lucky enough to take along, and others did likewise, but we couldn't think of going back the way we came, and so on we went, and finally reached the hall bespattered with mud, and awfully blaming the street commissioner for such miserable streets, and wondering why it is that pavements haven't been laid in that part of the town, and wishing the hall would only have come to us, instead of us going to it. We don't know, but we are afraid a good part of Sunday morning was taken up in removing the mud from once brightly polished boots and brushing the dirt from clean white skirts.

Railroad Meeting.

The friends of the Huntingdon, Fulton and Franklin Railroad held a meeting at Shade Gap, this county, on the 23d ult., at which the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, An act authorizing the incorporation of the H. F. & F. R. R. Co., requires that the enrolment tax shall be paid within one year, from date of approval, April 8th, 1868 and whereas, the time in which to pay the same has nearly elapsed, Therefore,

Resolved, That books be opened, at such time and place as this meeting shall designate, and the Chiar designate and appoint committees in the district interested, to receive subscriptions to the capital stock of the H. F. & F. Railroad Co., with the understanding that such stock shall be appropriated to the surveying, grading, and bridging of said road from Mt. Union to Orbisonia, as far as is necessary, and the road to progress from there to completion as rapidly as subscriptions shall justify.

Public Meeting of Young Men's Christian Association.

The Young Men's Christian Association of this place held their second annual meeting in the Methodist Church on last Monday evening.—There was a large attendance, and the exercises consisted of choir music, installation of officers for next term, appropriate addresses by Dr. Hotchkin, and R. Milton Speer, Esq; of this place, and reading an interesting report of the doings of the Association during the past year by Dr. Hotchkin, President of the Association. Our citizens were pleased, and the Association deserve credit for giving them the benefit of their presence in public. Our citizens should encourage this Association in its noble endeavor to promote the moral standing of our community, and young men, whether they belong to a denomination or not should enroll themselves as members.

Resigned.

Rev. John Hewitt, pastor of the St. John's Episcopal Congregation of this place, has resigned the charge, and on Sunday last preached his farewell sermon. Mr. Hewitt is held in high estimation by the members of his church and those who have formed his acquaintance, and it is with regret that they part with him. Though the congregation is small they have been greatly encouraged during his stay by his ministration, and by the number who went to hear him. Mr. Hewitt has also been the Principal of the Academy in this place. We understand he has accepted a charge at Baltimore.

The Peak Family.

Our citizens had the pleasure of hearing this troupe of Bell Ringers on Saturday evening last, and we are pleased to add that they turned out in large numbers—the hall being crowded. The entertainment was first class. The music of the bells, so skillfully handled, spoke the merits of the company better than we can, and the happy interludes, filled up by the harpist, and songs, sentimental and comical, gave the exhibition a variety that was altogether in place, and reflected credit on each of the performers.

Oriental Bitters.

We have received from Messrs. Foster & Smith, of this place, a bottle of Oriental Bitters. This is becoming popular in cases of Dyspepsia and other ills that flesh is heir to. The proprietors are making great progress in the manufacturing of these Bitters, and although it has been before the public but a short time, it has become almost as ready sale as Bitters that have been before the public for years. They are now prepared to fill large and small orders.

Local Legislation.

On Monday the House bill to enable the borough of Huntingdon to borrow money and issue bonds, and also to increase the rate of taxation in said borough, was passed finally.

On Wednesday Mr. McIntyre of Perry, called up a supplement to an act to incorporate the Duncannon, Bloomfield and Broad Top Railroad company, which passed finally.

A fire broke out in the Penna. Railroad shops at Altoona, recently which destroyed twenty-four new freight cars, a car load of bacon and lard, a car load of produce and about thirty thousand dollars worth of seasoned lumber. The entire loss is estimated at a quarter of a million dollars. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

☞I take occasion in this public manner to express my thanks to Richard Langdon, Esq, for the valuable present of a car load of his excellent coal taken from his productive mine on Broad Top. J. W. PLANNETT.

If our sales during the month go above our estimate, we will increase the number of presents. We pay a license to make as many presents to our customers as we please.

Any person purchasing to the amount of 25 Cents, or over, at either LEWIS' BOOK STORE, or MASSEY & Co's Grocery, Confectionery and Variety Store, from and including Monday, the 1st, to and including the will receive a numbered card for every 25 Cents worth purchased, which will entitle the holders to as many chances as they have numbered cards, to receive one or more of the above presents.

The goods on hand consist of Books of all kinds, Fancy Articles Musical Instruments, Perfumery, Wall Paper, Groceries of all kinds, Whitman's celebrated Confectionery, common Candies, Fruits of all kinds, Toys, Extra Family Flour, Buckwheat Flour, Corn Meal, Mince Meat, Sweet Cider, Vinegar, Coal Oil, Tubs, Buckets, Baskets, Stoneware, Brushes, Brooms, Whisks, Apples, Potatoes, etc., etc, too numerous to mention.

Our prices will be as low if not lower than elsewhere for the same goods.

Now's your time to receive a Handsome Present, Cheap.

The Enterprise will be continued, and valuable presents will be distributed the first day of every month.

Public notice will be given in the Journal & American and Globe, the first week in every month of the numbered cards entitled to presents, (the Monitor having yielded to a "combination of "other business men," will not advertise for the Enterprise;) and presents can be lifted any time after the 1st of each month, on presentation of numbered card.

Stamps and Printing Office business not included in the above.

Huntingdon, Feb. 1, 1869.

ITEMS FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER.

The following numbers in Massey & Co's Enterprise for January are entitled to presents:—9, 1074, 1415, 1442, 2267, 3027, 3728, 4524, 4765, 4846, 6013, 6150, 6243, 6329, 6619, 6670, 7195, 7315. The presents can be lifted at any time on presentation of yellow checks.

A new supply of Syrups, Baking Molasses, Coffees, Sugars, Teas, Chocolates, etc., cheap, at Massey & Co's., and handsome presents in the bargain every month.

Dessicated Cocoanut for Pies, Puddings, Cakes, etc., for sale at the cheap Grocery of Massey & Co.

A full assortment of fresh Spices, Baking Powders, Prunes, Raisins, Currants, Citron, Dried Peaches and Apples, Beans, Rice, Hominy, Barley, etc, etc., just received by Massey & Co.

Enterprise Headquarters pays heavier taxes, sells more Groceries, feeds more mouths, and sells at lower prices than any other store in town.

The season for papering is near at hand. New styles for 1869 have been received at Lewis Book Store.—Purchasers will receive free of charge something of more value than the paper they purchase. Call and see new styles and select your paper early.

Every store in town, Enterprise Headquarters excepted, complain of dull times. The people have found out where to get Groceries, etc., etc., cheap, and that's the reason why the "Swindle" is encouraged.

Country produce taken in exchange for Groceries at Enterprise Headquarters.

☞A distinguished Methodist minister and prominent Temperance Lecturer once remarked that go where he would, from one end of the country to the other, he hardly ever failed to find Plantation Bitters, and while he condemned the practice of using these Bitters too freely, he could not conscientiously say that he would discard them from the side-board, for he himself had experienced beneficial results from their use, and that, from a long and close observation, he was convinced that when used moderately, and as a medicine exclusively, they were all that was recommended. At the same time he warned his hearers not to pull the cork too often, for they were far too pleasant a topic to trifle with.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

TESTIMONY of a PROMINENT PHYSICIAN.

Dr. J. T. Baker, a skillful and widely known physician of twenty years standing in Lancaster, Pa., gives his opinion of a popular household remedy, in the following letter:

LANCASTER, PA., November 23, 1868.

DR. S. D. HARTMAN & CO.—Dear Sirs During the past eight years I have had frequent opportunities to study the effect of Mishler's Herb Bitters upon persons suffering from Dyspepsia, Loss of Nervous Energy, Sexual Weakness, Diarrhœa, &c. Remedies were prescribed by other physicians according to the Homeopathic, Allopathic and Hydropathic schools, and only a comparatively few permanent cures effected On the other hand, I have never known the Bitters to fail producing the desired result, and I still use them in the treatment of such complaints, with the highest success. I have no hesitation in saying that I consider Mishler's Herb Bitters the most efficacious remedy ever discovered for diseases arising from a disordered Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bowels, Lungs and Heart.

Yours truly,

J. T. BAKER, M. D.

HOUSES FOR SALE and RENT.

The subscriber will receive bids for the purchase of the large

in which he now resides, and which is also occupied as a Hardware Store, Masonic Lodge and Chapter, and by the Young Men's Christian Association.

It is in a central business location, is a fine and substantial structure, having cut stone foundation and steps, pressed brick front, slate roof, French plate glass, solid walnut sash, best style of finish inside, with elaborate mouldings, fine glossing and graining. Gas pipes to every apartment, and whole house arranged with a view to comfort and convenience. Excellent well of water and very large cistern with both pumps on the porch.

On the building is a handsome Observatory, giving a pleasant view of the town and country for miles around.

Altogether this is the most desirable and valuable property in Huntingdon, which is now one of the most pleasant and thrifty towns on the line of the Pennsylvania Rail Road.

From the Newark Press.

Mark Twain Hoaxed.

It is seldom pleasant to tell on one's self, but sometimes it is a sort of relief to a man to make a sad confession. I wish to unburden my mind now, and yet I almost believe that I am moved to it more because I long to bring censure upon another man than because I desire to pour balm upon my wounded heart. (I don't know what balm is, but I believe it is the correct expression to use in this connection, never having seen any balm.) You may remember that I lectured in Newark lately for the young gentlemen of the Clayonian Society. I did at any rate. During the afternoon of that day I was walking with one of the young gentlemen just referred to, and he said he had an uncle who, from some cause or other, seemed to have grown permanently bereft of all emotion. And, with tears in his eyes, this young man said:

"Oh, if I could only see him laugh once more! Oh, if I could only see him weep!"

I was touched. I never could withstand distress. I said: "Bring him to my lecture. I'll start him for you."

"Oh, if you would but do it! If you could but do it, all our family would bless you forever—he is very dear to us. Oh! my benefactor, can you make him laugh? Can you bring soothing tears to those arched orbs?"

I was profoundly moved. I said: "My son, bring the old party around. I have got some jokes in that lecture that will make him laugh if there is any laugh in him—and if they miss fire I have some others that'll make him cry or kill him—one or the other."

Then the young man blessed me, and wept on my neck, and blew his nose on my coat tail, and went after his uncle. He placed him in full view, in the second row of benches, that night, and I began on him. I tried him with mild jokes; then with severe ones; I dosed him with bad jokes, and riddled into him, and peppered him fore and aft with red hot new ones; I warmed up to my work, and assaulted him right and left, in front and behind; I fumed and sweated, and charged and ranted, till I was hoarse and sick, and frantic and furious—but I never moved him once—I never started a smile nor a tear! Never a ghost of a smile, and never a suspicion of moisture! I was astounded. I closed the lecture at last with one despairing shriek—with one wild burst of humor—and hurled a joke of supernatural atrocity full at him! Then I sat down bewildered and exhausted.

The President of the society came up and bathed my head with cold water, and said: "What made you carry on so toward the last?"

I said: "I was trying to make that confounded old fool laugh, in the second row."

And he said: "Well, you were wasting your time, because he is deaf and dumb, and as blind as a badger."

Now was that any way for that old man's nephew to impose on a stranger and an orphan like me? I simply ask you, as a man and a brother, if that was any way for him to do.

MARK TWAIN.

☞ Artemus Ward, being present at a celebration and exhibition, was called upon for a speech, when he replied in a "toast to the phair sex:"

"Ladies, sez I, turnin tu the butiful femails hoos presence was perfuming the fair ground, I hope you are enjoyin yourselves on this ocashun, and that lemonaid and water ov which you are drinkin, may not go agin you. May you allers be fair as the sun, bright as the moon, and butiful as an army with Union flags—also plenty of good elose to ware.

"To your sex, commonly called the phair sex, we are indebted to bornins, as well as many other blessins in these low grounds ov sorrow. Sum poor spirited fools blame your sex for the difficulty in the gardin, but I hev no dowt but Adam would hev rigged a cyder press, and like as not went into a big bust and driven off on a tare.—Your furst mother was a lady, and all her dawters ditto, and nun but a loafin cuss will say a word agin yu. Hopin that no waive of truble will roll across your peaceful brests, I konclude these remarks with the following sentiment:

"Woman—she are a good egg."

☞ A good story is told of an American merchant who, a few Sundays since, went into a fashionable London church a few minutes after the service had commenced and stood in the aisle. The pew-opener passed him several times and took no notice of him. They show more respect to a stranger in American churches, so he determined to give them a lesson. Seeing that there was plenty of room in several pews, but that the pew-opener passed him again and again without offering him a seat, he quietly spread open his coat tails, and squatted down on the neatly matted aisle. The clergyman noticed him, and looked at the pew-opener, who at once went to him and offered him a seat.

"No, thank you," he whispered; "I am quite comfortable, and shall sit here all through the service."

PUTTING ON AIRS.—An amusing colloquy came off at a supper table on board of one of the Mississippi boats, between an exquisite, reeking with hair oil and cologne, who was cursing the waiters, assuming very consequential airs, and a raw Jonathan seated by his side, dressed in homespun.—Turning to his vulgar friend, the former pointed with his long jeweled finger, and said;

"Buttah, sah."

"I see it is," coolly replied Jonathan.

"Buttah, sah, I say!" fiercely replied dandy.

"I know it is very good, a first-rate article."

"Buttah, I tell you!" thundered the dandy, in still louder tones, pointing with slow, unmoving finger, and scowling upon his neighbor as if he would annihilate him.

"Well, gosh all Jerusalem, what of it?" now yelled the down-easter, getting his dander up in turn. "You didn't think I took it for lard, did you?

HUNTINGDON, PA.

SOLDIERS' HEIRS, ATTENTION!

The act of Congress approved March 2, 1867, gives to Heirs of Soldiers who died prisoners of war, for the time the soldier was so held a prisoner, at the rate of twenty-five cents per day, to be paid in the following order: 1st. To the widow, if unmerried; 2d. To the children; 3d. To the parents, to both jointly if they are living, if either is dead, to the survivor; 4th. To the brothers and sisters.

COMMUTATION FOR RATIONS,

The act of February 28, 1867, provides for the refunding of the $300 Commutation Money, where the same person was again drafted, and was required to enter the service or furnish a substitute.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS.

The act of March 2, 1867, also makes provisions for the payment of the

to such soldiers as have accidentally lost their discharges

All persons having any claims under any of the above mentioned Acts, or any other kind of claim against the United States or State Governments, can have them promptly collected, by addressing the undersigned. Information and advice cheerfully given to soldiers or their friends, free of charge.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by any body. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Langnor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.
